HWWE

Humanizing Work and Work Environment
(8th-10th December, 2017)

About the Conference

The 15th International HWWE Conference will be held at the Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, India from 8th – 10th December 2017. The Conference aims to offer a key international forum for academicians, researchers and industrial partners to exchange ideas in the field of Ergonomics/Human Factors Engineering. This will result in enhanced productivity by creating better work environment leading to a satisfying and sustainable way of life.

In addition to participating in the conference, the delegates will have an opportunity to infuse in the history, heritage and culture of one of the oldest and prestigious University of the subcontinent established on the pattern of Oxford and Cambridge universities in 1920.

The Venue

Aligarh Muslim University (AMU) is situated at a distance of 130 Km, South East of New Delhi on Delhi-Calcutta Railway and Grand Trunk Road route. The latitude of the city is 27°54' north and longitude is 78°05' minute east.

The University occupies a unique position amongst universities and institutions of higher learning in the country. It was established in 1920, and evolved out of the Mohammedan Anglo-Oriental College (MAO College) which was set up in 1877 by the great visionary and social reformer, Sir Syed Ahmad Khan. From its very inception, it has attracted students from all corners of the country and the world.

We kindly invite you to participate at this exhilarating international conference. Papers will be blind peer-reviewed. The Prospective authors are welcome to submit their research papers/case studies on the following topics but are not limited to:

- Agriculture Ergonomics
- Anthropometry and Workplace Design
- Biomechanics and Modelling in Ergonomics
- Cognitive & Environmental Ergonomics
- Ergonomics in Defense
- Ergonomic Intervention and Productivity
- Ergonomics for Aged and Differently Abled
- Ergonomics in Operations, Manufacturing & Product development
- Ergonomics in Transport, Mining and Forestry
- Healthcare systems, Work Physiology and Sports Ergonomics
- Human-Computer Interaction & User Centered design
- Manual Material Handling
- Safety and Occupational Health & Musculoskeletal Disorders
- Noise and Vibration Engineering
- Any other
